Giving customers a better experience is a key differentiator over your competitors. But it’s not always easy to keep your existing customers satisfied. Many businesses lack visibility into what their customers are trying to achieve with their product. By not fully understanding your customers, you risk failing to keep them satisfied, and ultimately, failing to keep them as customers.

Make things easy for your customers and help them get more out of your software and you’ll develop a stronger relationship. To do this, you need to focus on three key areas:

- Use data and insights to understand your customers’ needs and identify problems early
- Make sure you’re easy to do business with and give your customers the best possible experience
- Ensure your customers know how to use your solution and have all they need to get started

Increase Your Revenue by Focusing on Customer Experience

It can cost up to 30x as much to get a new customer as it does to keep an existing one.

A 5% increase in customer retention can increase a company’s profitability by 75%.

What’s standing in the way of a better relationship?

Many businesses lack the technology to understand:

- Customer Needs
- License Activations
- Usage Data
- Customer Loyalty

Licensing Helps You Understand Your Customers Better

Today, software licensing solutions do more than just control access and permissions for your software. They can provide an invaluable source of information to help you keep your customers happy and keep them coming back.

Sentinel Solutions can help you increase customer satisfaction by providing:

- An understanding of your license usage for cross-sell and up-sell opportunities
- Insight into buying and activation trends
- Information about the use of features

By the end of this year, customer experience will be the key differentiator for most businesses.
